NEXT CHURCH SERVICE

November 14, 2010

"Forging Our Own Deliverance."

Rev. Leland Bond-Upson

This is about Liberalism, secular and religious--what it is, what it's done, and why you can be proud. This the first in a series looking at the roots of our faith. Once a month we will explore a thread that twines with the others to make up modern Unitarian-Universalism. The others will be Unitarianism, Universalism, Humanism, and Spirituality, which will include Nature-centered religious feeling, and I'm thinking of adding Buddhism.

Unitarian Universalist Religious Education

Children age three and under are with Phyllis Keohohou and volunteers, engaged in making friends, parallel play, and learning about our church. Children are welcome in Room #5, upstairs, starting at 10:10 a.m. Children in Sylvia's class will meet with her in Room #3 this morning. As always, we need extra adult helping hands. Please let me know if your hands are available this morning for this important work.

Children in 1st - 8th join their families for the first part of the service this morning. Then march upstairs for the RE Opening Circle, and continue our Environmental Stewardship Program. This Sunday, Fred Barnett, The Fish Man, will be with us. And he's bringing a shark jaw so large that he's not sure he can carry it upstairs by himself. Please join Fred, and Steve this morning for Something Fishy. Parents are invited, too, especially to the RE Closing Circle at 11:45.

Youth Group meets in the Fred Harper Room, following the first part of the service.

November 14: Return of Dr. Gerry Marten, to talk about Environmental Stewardship and Eco-Tipping Points. What can WE DO to keep our earth healthy?

November 21: Exchange students with Catherine Graham's Aspects Program, will be talking with children and youth in the RE program about their home countries. This should be fascinating.

November 28: Sunday Service is a multi-cultural approach to Thanksgiving, and gratitude. This is also the First Sunday of Advent Karen Valasek is planning rehearsals for the Christmas Pageant, on Sundays, after church, beginning on Sunday, November 28. Please talk with Karen or Nan ASAP if you and your family will participate in The Pageant!

Religious Education BOOSTER CLUB: On Sunday, February 14, at 12:30 p.m., families with children in the our church's Religious Education Program are invited to meet with Nan, and members of the Church's Executive Board, to talk about the future WE WANT for our Religious Education program. And what we need to do to make this future happen with all of us. As a church, we are in TRANSITION. Lots of new things happening, and it's time to examine our opportunities and choose the path that best suits our needs. Please RSVP to Nan [so there will be enough dessert!], and let her know if you will need child care during this exciting event.

November Partner Church Project: Collect school supplies and special books to send to the children in our Partner Church, in The Philippines. I already have some things to send, like the children's version of the UU Principles, and some books. I would like to send a box stuffed with wonder to these children who don't have all that much. School supplies, markers, notebooks, pencils, crayons, scissors, are especially useful. I'm also going to send another bunch of t-shirts with our church logo on 'em. The goal is to collect stuff before Thanksgiving, so that we can send it before Christmas.

I would be delighted if each family could provide: A notebook, a box of markers, 2 pencils, a pair of scissors, and a photo of your family to include in the box. THANKS!!

"Jim Stoll—
minister, flawed hero, gay rights pioneer"
Rev. Leland Bond-Upson

My hometown minister, the Rev. James L. Stoll, was a remarkable mix of qualities, some admirable, some not, all of them outside. A recent article in the New York Times has revived interest in Jim's accomplishments in the gay rights movement, and in his personality and behavior. I was with him for much of the drama. We will recount his ministry in all its dimensions.
